that Referee Willard Bean changed his decis-ion, awarding the honors of the bout to Schreck on a foul, at his direction. Bean Was Decided On.

"When the permit for the fight," declared Chief Lynch, "was Issued at the Mayor's office, it was with the explicit understanding that the contest should be referred by Willerd Bean. Just prior to his departure from this city for Los Angeles, a few days are, Mayor Morris told me to remember that Bean should referred the fight. Understanding With Mayor.

"I told him that Bean had spoken of George siter officialing as referee. He repited that he liked Been and that it would be best to stand by the understanding. Bean came to me at the ringside and asked: 'Am I to referee this fight.' I replied: You know that was the understanding with the Mayor in the mat-ter, and I guess you will have to stick to it.' I had nothing further to do with the matter of the referve.

His Questions to Bean. "Who said that I caused Bean to reverse his decision? I deny that report. At the close of the fight 1 stepped up on the platform, not within the ropes, to clear it of the crowd, the fight having cased, when Bean came through the ropes. I asked: Willard, who won the fight? He replied. Schreek, on a foul.' I have stopped thinking about the contest."

Views of Sports.

The opinions of reliable persons who witnessed the fight follow:
Manager John Curley said: 'In his effort to do the right thing, Mr. Bean got involved in a hard tangle. I believe that he tried to be perfectly, honest, but I cannot concede his right to change a decision given after an intermission of five minutes any more than after five years. A decision once given is binding. I guess Willard saw that the fight couldn't go twenty rounds and so he tried to even up matters by throwing in three decisions."

Wille the Best Man.

S J Kelly: 'It was a great fight while it meted. The fouls committed were not fouls in the true sense of the word, as they were not intentional, and did not injure Schreck's chances of winning. In my opinion there was no foul committed in the tenth round. Schreck necognized that he was up against it and spired the advantage. Wille is a great fighter and should have been given the decision. I rever heart of a referee changing his decision in the fashion that it was done last evening."

Fight on the Level.

Jack Thornton. 'I thought the fight was on the level and good up until the time that it ended. Wille was too strong and rugged for Mike, but it was no surprise to me that he lost on a foul, as I have seen him in other contests and know it to be an unfortunate result of his style of delivering a blow." Black Eye on Sport.

Jack McLeod "Up to the sigth round it was anybody's fight. After Schreek got that low one he was a different man. The fighting insthot remained, but not the cleverness and shiftiness which characterized him in his previous fights. That blow entitled Mike to the decision, and the referee should have stopped the fight. The way that the fight ended, and the multifarious decisions rendered put a black eye on the sport."

Bean Did His Best. W. H. Gibson (until) recently the manager of Jimmy Gardneri: 'It was a great fight up to the sixth round. Why Referce Beam first save the decision to Wille and then reversed himself I do not understand. However, Mr. Bean did the best he knew, and the people got their money's worth. I will say this—it is no trick for a clever fighter to feel a crowd with the foul cry. Drop suddenly after a blow and half the audience, two-thirds of them, don't know whether you are faking or not."

Failed to See Foul. Mike Loftus. "I thought Wille should have been given the decision. I falled to see the feul in the tenth, and that Wille had matters coming his own way is evident from Manager. Bean's first decision. Why he reversed himself I cannot understand."

Billy Madden's Opinion.

Billy Madden (manager of Gus Rublin)
"We all make mistakes Bigger men than Willard Bean have fell down on refereeing fights Many others might have done as bad
Let me tell you, no referee likes to award a fight on a foul. There is always a chance for a squabble. Mr. Bean made his mistake by falling to stick with his first decision.
However I don't question his honesty for a moment, and he can referee fights for me if the occasion should ever demand it."

What Wills Seve.

What Wille Says.

Wille seld of the final decision of the refcree. I do not wish to find fault with Mr.
Bean. I know that he is honest, and that his decision against me was through excitement rather than from any other cruse. As for Schreck I had him whipped he knew it and took advantage of the chance to slide out of the game. I want to say also, that if I had hit Schreck the foul blow he claims I did with my open hand to may nothing about my fist you can put it down that he would not be walking around the streets as spry as he was today." today.

Gus Ruhlin's View.

Gus Ruhlin's View.

Gus Ruhlin, the Akron giant, was caught just as he was making his way out to Saltair, where he greatly appreciates the lake bathing. He said, is answer as to what he thought about he fight and decision. It was a good fight, but I cannot express my opinion about the decision because there were too many of them. It looked like Wille's fight, although Schreck showed up better as a fast boxer. I am willing to have a go with Wille, and I hope that it can be arranged. I intend to remain here until the matter is settled one way or the other.

Badly Managged.

Badly Managed.

Badly Managed.

Jim Donaldson: "It was a badly managed aftair. Bean should have given Schreck the necision on the first foul and ended the matter. What should have been done was to declare it no contest, and donate the money to some charitable association. It was Wille's fight all zlong, and he unfoutedly would have won in a finish fight. Inasmuch as the first foul was overlosked, they should have been given axes and told to go to it right. It looks to me as if these Eastern fighters have just come out sere and taken advantage of a weak referse. There are some things involved in the effect that I would rether not mention anything about. I do not think that this unfortunate affair will kill the game for Salt Lake.

Schreck Outclassed.

Schreck Outclassed.

Frank Moore Wills clearly outclassed Schreek. He is the asperlor man. If the agreement was that the fighters were not to claim on fouls, the decision should have gone to Wills. Under all rules Schreek should have been declared the winner, but in the face of ignoring fouls, anything should have gone I think that the referres should have stood by his first decision under all civcumstances."

Wille a Winner.

Wille a Winner.

"Bettrees the two men," said an Eastern traveling man at the Keuyon, who saw the fight, and who would not iermit his name to be used. I would pick Wille any time. He is the best man, and can whip Schreck at any time. It must be Sait Lake rules that permit a referee to change his decision. When the decision was given Wille people were satisfied. I am sure that had not the bets been declared off after Schreck was declared the winner there would have been the biggest riot ever seen in Sait Lake. Wille is the best man and should be given credit."

The receipts were something over $3400. On the decision the money was divided equally between the fighters. They got 150 per cent of the receipts and divided their part on the same basis.

Kid Herman Wins Decision.

Kid Herman Wins Decision.

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Sept. 6.—In fifteen rounds of the most victous fighting Kid Herman won a decision over Tommy Mowatt at Reed's lake tonight. Herman had the fight well in band from the start. Mowatt showed a lack of condition, while Herman was strong throughout and forced the lighting. Mowatt fought the stomach, while Herman played hard on the face and kidneys. The betting was forced down from even money to 160 to 50 on Herman, with no takers when the contestants entered the ring. About 4000 people witnessed the battle.

to perfect arrangements for a match to be held in this city between the Arkon Giant, Gus Ruhlin, and John Wille. Up to a late hour last evening the match had not been made, and as Curley and Wille both leave for San Francisco today, where they go to take in the Britt-Nelson fight, it is doubtful if such a match will be arranged immediately.

Madden favors pulling off the bout in this city within a month. Curley said he would not turn down an offer, and that Wille would go against Rublin if he could not get some matches with easier game, such as Jack O'Brien, Hart or others. It was rumored yesterday that the management of the Athanaeum club propose to inaugurate a series of amateur fights in which youths who aspire to beworld-beaters may participate. Whether these little fights are to displace the large bouts for a time until the odor of Tuesday night's fight blows away, remains to be seen. The first of these early next month. The programme will consist of three or four bouts, followed by a six-round semi-professional contest.

ECHOES OF FIGHT

Schreck and Hogan Leave for the East.

Mike Schreck and his manager, Billy Hogan, eft for Denver yesterday. Mike was about left for Denver yesterday. Mike was about on the street yesterday and showed up pretty fair for a man just through a ten-round grueiling contest. He did not manifest any signs of pain as a result of the foul blows landed during the fight. Before leaving, Hogun said: We will lay over in Denver for a few days and if Wille or Rublin want a short go we will try to accommodate them. Failing in this we will try to accommodate them. Failing in this we will try there. George Siler left for the coast yesterday morning. He was joined at Ogden by his wife.

Billy Madden and Gus Ruhlin will remain in the city for a few days, waiting to hear from several propositions which they now have under consideration.

Nelson-Britt Fight.

Nelson-Britt Fight.

Jack Curley, manager of Wille, yesterday received a letter from his old friend Billy Nolan, manager of Nelson, in which he has the following to say regarding the Battler's coming fight with Britt:

"I think Nelson has much the best of this fight so far. Forty-five rounds means much for the Battler. It is up to him to do the rest. If he can not win from Britt in this kind of a fight, he never will. The chances look rosy.
"Don't miss the fight. It will bring out the greatest drowd that ever easembled at a ringside. If the Battler wins, and I feel he will, then it is for us to hit for the East, where he will give sparring exhibitions."

Champion Ball Sunday.

On Sunday next Salt Lake and Park City will meet in a final struggle for the State besebail championshin. The Miners and Saints have already met twice, each winning a victory. As Park City has a decided lead over Eureka, the winner of Sunday's contest can justly claim the State championship. Both teams are practicing daily for the contest. They are evenly matched and the outcome of the game is anything but certain.

Evenings.

As the closing date of this sale draws near there is no abatement in the interest taken in its money-saving possibilities by wise, discerning people. Yesterday we sold twelve planes, three organs and one plane player, more instruments than some dealers sell in three months.

What a wonderful sale it is, to be sure. But then, think of the great inducements Think of buying the best planes in the world at prices even less than that asked by other dealers for the cheap kind. Think of buying good pianes at a saving of $150 to $200. Think of buying high-class, dependable planes at $127, $143, $168, etc., that other dealers sell at $275, $300 to $350. Think of buying a guaranteed plane, new, for only $98.

Or a good used upright for $43. Do you wonder that we are selling on an average of twelve planes per day? Do you wonder that people are taking advantage of such an opportunity?

We have made piano-buying safe, easy and profitable. And no amount of fireworks set off, balloons sent up, or dust thrown in the air by certain excited gentlemen will deter people from looking after their own interests and buying in this sale. Neither has the cry of "Me, too," attracted them elsewhere.
